Northwind Analytics — Q4 2026 Quarterly Report

Executive summary

Northwind Analytics closed 2026 with its strongest quarter on record. Total revenue reached $111.1 million in Q4, up 10.2% quarter over quarter and 26% year over year. Growth was led by the Asia Pacific region, where the launch of the self-serve analytics tier more than offset softness in enterprise renewals.

Three themes defined the year. First, self-serve adoption: 61% of new accounts in Q4 started on the self-serve tier, compared with 22% in Q1. Second, infrastructure efficiency: migrating the query engine to the new storage layer reduced compute cost per query by 38%. Third, regional diversification: North America fell from 54% of revenue in Q1 to 40% in Q4 as Europe and Asia Pacific grew.

Headcount ended the year at 412, up from 365. The company remained free-cash-flow positive in every quarter.

Financial results

The table below summarizes revenue, operating cost and operating margin for each quarter of 2026. Operating margin is operating income divided by revenue.

Quarter	Revenue ($M)	Operating Cost ($M)	Operating Margin
Q1 2026	88.2	71.4	19.0%
Q2 2026	94.7	75.1	20.7%
Q3 2026	100.8	82.9	17.8%
Q4 2026	111.1	84.3	24.1%

Operating cost rose only 1.7% from Q3 to Q4 despite the revenue increase, reflecting the full-quarter effect of the storage migration completed in September. Sales and marketing spend was flat; research and development grew 9% with the opening of the Singapore engineering office.

Deferred revenue grew to $48.3 million, a 31% increase from year end 2025, driven by multi-year self-serve commitments.

Regional performance and outlook

Asia Pacific revenue grew from $18.2 million in Q3 to $24.6 million in Q4, a 35% increase, the fastest regional growth in company history. Europe grew 4.8% to $33.0 million. North America grew 5% to $44.1 million. Latin America was broadly flat at $9.4 million.

For 2027 the company expects revenue growth of 20% to 24%, with operating margin between 22% and 25%. The primary risks are enterprise renewal rates in North America and currency exposure in Asia Pacific. The company does not provide guidance beyond fiscal 2027.